How can design practice advocacy lead to social partnership opportunities, reconnecting London’s presently fragmented waste management services with local community?
What kind of cultural and socio-ethical encounters did the proposed Designedisposal asterism provoke?

As designing with others / Urban Ubuntu

CO-Design invokes interactive, non-linear processes, action based research, bottom-up approaches.

CO-Design as a development of systems thinking, as creation of artefacts in a community’s context as a shared vision, mutual compassion, and social learning among all key stakeholders.
